

Pastors: How to find joy in your job this year

January 16, 2024

Pastor and theologian Jim Denison offers Jesus' instruction, along with four steps, to pastors looking for joy in their job.

Where there's a will, there's a way

January 16, 2024

Jerry Carlisle, president of the Texas Baptist Missions Foundation, explains the costs of not having a will and the ease of obtaining one.

Ten suggestions for welcoming a new pastor

January 16, 2024

Barry Howard describes 10 ways individuals and congregations can welcome a new pastor spiritually, mentally and emotionally.

Building a staff team: Seven guides for transitioning off the team

January 16, 2024

Howie Batson concludes his series on church staffing by addressing the hardest task of those who oversee staff members.

Building a staff team: Going from 'good to great,' Part 2

January 16, 2024

Howie Batson shares, from his more than 25 years of experience, 13 adjectives for developing a great ministry team (Part 2).

Building a staff team: Going from 'good to great,' Part 1

January 16, 2024

Howie Batson shares, from his more than 25 years of experience, 13 adjectives for developing a great ministry team (Part 1).

How churches can support eating disorder recovery

January 16, 2024

Advice for churches and ministry leaders for more effective ministry with those recovering from eating disorders, from one who is.

Three ways churches can minister to international students

January 16, 2024

An international student offers practical suggestions for Christians and churches wanting to minister to international students.

Pastor, how are you bearing up under grief?

January 16, 2024

Ron Cook shares four ways pastors and other ministers can lighten the load of their own grief and stress while ministering to others.

10 keys for a great start in a new ministry position

January 16, 2024

Howie Batson, senior pastor of First Baptist Church in Amarillo, shares the 10 keys for a great start he gives to all new church staff.

Comical stories a pastor can appreciate

January 16, 2024

Every minister has at least one funny ministry story. Sometimes, those stories can be shared. Don Newbury shares a couple.

How a trained interim pastor can improve a pastor search

January 16, 2024

If your church is seeking a new pastor, a trained interim can strengthen your church as you search, Karl Fickling contends.